

"Gow" Coming to Fox Plaza, Sun.; Also Stage Acts

The management of the Fox Plaza Theatre has secured for a special showing that feature picture of the South Seas, "Gow." This theatre will also present Captain Bill Peck, noted explorer, in a personal appearance at every performance of "Gow."

He will fully describe the making and taking of this unusual picture. The patrons will be greatly interested in his description of head-hunters and man-eating cannibals. In addition to this program, on Sunday and Monday, July 10-11, will be presented an interesting feature preview.

On Tuesday night will be shown "Westward Passage," starring Ann Harding. On the stage the added attraction Sunday night will be the Hi-Jinks from Warner Brothers radio station, KFWR, which will complete the bill.

And here's another announcement of a big stage attraction coming to the Fox Plaza, Wednesday and Thursday, Stuart Hamblin in the "Covered Wagon Jubilee" that met with so much approval at the Fox Plaza Theatre, will return July 12-14 for a big stage showing.

The feature picture for this night will be "Merrily We Go to Hell," starring Fredric March and Sylvia Sydney.

Instead of the regular troop meeting last Friday, Troop 3, had their first wester lake of the summer.

Roll call and the announcements were made in the Scout hall, then the troop went outside and played indoor ball until dark when they baked wafers and toasted marshmallows. After the lunch they played "Capture the Flag."

Next week the monthly rally will be held. Contests in friction fire, flint and steel, and first aid will decide which patrol will win the pennant. Badges will be presented for nearly every rank of Scouting from tenderfoot to Eagle.
